Fashion Declares Its Independence in the Matter of Silhouette and in Approving Both Black and Color.

The Frock at the Left, in the Vivonnet Manner, Is Developed in Chiffon in Degradé Treatment, Shading From Flesh to the Deepest Rose Tone, the Scarf Also Following the Shaded Effect.

Reports from Paris continue to be concerned very largely with the lack of uniformity in silhouette. This independence is in keeping with the spirit of the day and is approved not only by the average importer, but by the women for whom they assemble their wares. It argues for a better selection for women of decided types, and for better dressing generally since there is a line for every figure.

That evening dresses are inclined to scintillation is one of the notes of interest, cheering to those who are oppressed by the fear that the vogues for black may result in too great a somberness to be compatible with a gay night life.

Black is unquestionably the smartest note for evening, but there is nothing depressing in the brilliancy of black paillettes or in the diaphanous quality of nets, filmy laces and sheer chiffons. Lines, too, are subtly soft, for most designers subscribe to the new boldness or broken waistline, and are inclined to the grace of floating scarf end panels, tiers and fringe—all details which add grace. Both yellow and red are introduced for evening, and pink, while not new, has taken on an added interest because of the chic of candy pink or praline. There are many clever color schemes employed in smart, new evening frocks, several of which include wall flower colorings. While there is some justification in the rumor that embroidery is returning, it seems of minor importance considering the furor one finds for novelty laces, for spangles, and for good and sufficient uses of ribbon.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

A Popular Model With Youthful Lines.

5113. This is one of the leading styles of the season—and is certainly an ideal warm weather dress. Linen, bordered with embroidery, was used for the dress and blouse. The pattern is cut in 3 sizes: 16, 18 and 20 years. An 18 year size requires 3 1/2 yards of 40 inch material for the dress, and 1 1/2 yard for the blouse. The width of the dress at the foot is 1 1/2 yard.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any person on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Fashion Book Notice.

Send 15c in coin or stamps to The Freeman for our up-to-date Spring and Summer 1926 Book of Fashions, showing color plates, and containing 500 designs of ladies', misses' and children's patterns, a concise and comprehensive article on dressmaking, also some points for the needle illustrating 24 of the various, simple stitches. All valuable hints to the home dressmaker.

Arouses Antagonism

Nothing is so calling to a people, not broken in from the birth, as a paternal or, in other words, a meddling government, a government which tells them what to read and say and what to drink and wear.—Lord Macaulay.

Where the Wood Goes

Building and construction take annually 60,000 cords of lumber; planing mills, 20,000 cords; the sawmills industry, 40,000 cords. Even the pulp and paper mills require 4,000 to 5,000 cords of wood each year.

Early Suspension Bridge

The first suspension bridge built in America was a wooden structure crossed over the Mohawk river at Schoharie, N. Y., between 1796 and 1800 by Theodore Burr, brother of Aaron Burr. It was torn down in 1872.

On Fashions

Terry Cloth and More Formal Fabrics Lead the Way to the Sea. For Beach Coats or Capes Are Essential to Chic.

All the world and his wife, to say nothing of his children, his grandchildren, his cousins, sisters, and his aunts, are packing not only their troubles but their clothes in their old kit bag and getting away for the holidays. In nearly every kit is a bathing suit and in all smart ones a bathing coat as well.

The so called modesty of the modern swimming suit is offset by the enveloping folds of the coat or cape under which it makes its entrance on the beach.

All sorts of materials are chosen, from silk to Turkish toweling, from rubber to rayon. It has become correct to loil about the beach when under the protection of some sort of outer covering, a bathrobe being as good as any. One may with propriety wear a knitted swimming suit, although many women for reasons which are perhaps more concerned with vanity than ethics, prefer tunic types which are fashioned of anything from crepe to cotton.

It has become the approved fashion of the elite to don bright colors for their dip in the sea. Black is never anything but ugly, although often voted smart on the beach. Printed crepes and checked and plaid silks are pleasing there, and the universally approved fashion of combining colors and materials finds favor in or by the sea. Turkish toweling, or Terry cloth, has a natural affinity for the water and is chosen either in vivid color, or orange, Capri blue or coral, either in plain or printed effects.

Snappy Plaid Cape-Coat

Appeals to Young Women.

The "Kiki coat" is one of the most effective cape-coats of the season. It is made of large-squared plaid material with a scant coat-skirt and with a detachable cape. Without the cape, the coat becomes a practical plaid sports coat of straightened type, suitable for country wear. With the cape, it is among the snappiest of coats for street wear. Of course, a stout person or one well along in years will not care for this coat, as it is designed for young women.

Shirtings a Favored Trim

Shirtings play a part of distinct importance in the fashions of spring and often supply the only note of decoration.

Colonials Will Be Seen in Four Fast Contests

Game Tonight With Hudson A. C. Begins at 8:30 — Three-Game Series Starting Sunday With Boston Black Sox.

Four matches will be crowded in tonight, Sunday and Monday of the Colonials' playing schedule and then two more in Northern New York, Tuesday and Wednesday, giving the Phelpsman their busiest time of the season.

With four twirlers to assume the mound work of the five-day campaign, Manager Phelps will have to keep a close watch on his twirlers. The staff will consider Art Smith, Clyde Russell, Johnny McMarra and Eddie Baker. Tonight's battle with the Hudson A. C. of New Haven, Conn., will start at 8:30. The Boston Black Sox will open their three-game series against the Colonials, Sunday afternoon at 3:30. The colored outfit will remain for two more contests on Monday, 10:30 and 3:30.

Manager Phelps and his forces will set sail Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock for Glens Falls where they play Chappie Johnson one game in the afternoon. The Phelpsman come back to Amsterdam on Wednesday and oppose the All-Stars again. The scheduled match with Ticonderoga for Thursday had been canceled.

As Melvin will not be available to assume the catching duties when the locals play every match, O'Malley who performed in this capacity for White Plains a few weeks ago, will take over the job behind the bat regularly starting Sunday. Jack Robins will catch for tonight's contest.

Lou Brown received word from the New Haven club of the Eastern League where Bud Culliton is stationed, stating that the Connecticut outfit may be able to meet the Colonials in Kingston on September 7. The New Haven club is well booked, this late date being the only opening in their schedule.

Mrs. Godfree Won Ladies' Singles

Wimbledon, England, July 3.—Mrs. Kitty McKane Godfree today won the tennis laurels so long held by Miss Suzanne Lenglen—the Wimbledon championship for the ladies' singles.

Mrs. Godfree defeated Senorita D'Alvarez, the Spanish champion, to win back the championship which she held two years ago when Miss Lenglen failed to compete.

Mrs. Godfree won 6-2, 4-6, 6-3. Senorita D'Alvarez displayed her most brilliant form in the second set, taking the first three games with drives of beautiful strength and extraordinary placements. Mrs. Godfree was fighting hard and went to three-four after a series of terrific rallies, but the Spanish girl's brilliance held out and she won comfortably at six-four.

Jones Praises Jesse Sweetser

Golf Champion Takes Much Time in Speech Acknowledging Great Ovation, to Bestow Praise on Another Champion.

New York, July 3.—After being feted for three solid hours by city officials, cheered by an admiring public and given a reception at the Hotel Vanderbilt last night as the climax of a greeting unsurpassed in the history of sports, Bobby Jones "got back to normalcy" today.

The British Open and American Amateur Golf Champion was the center of praise at the dinner and reception. Prominent men of the south and east and leading golfers united in characterizing him as a "sportsman," as well as "one of the greatest golfers the world has seen."

In addition, there was praise for Jesse Sweetser, of New York, new British Amateur Champion, and for Mayor Walker.

Bobby Jones devoted most of his speech to the accomplishments of Sweetser, who returned sick from England with the Amateur Championship, and who, because of sickness, was unable to attend the function last night.

"I don't think the people in America realize how wonderful was the feat of Jesse Sweetser," Jones said. "His was the hardest championship in the world to win. Every day he had a new opponent, and he was handicapped by illness. Indomitable courage took him through the tournament, and Jesse has lots of it. We were tickled to death by his victory."

Jones also expressed gratitude to the people of New York city for the reception given him yesterday.

"It was the greatest event of my life," he said.

The fast stepping Shenandoah team traveled to East Kingston and defeated the Golden Rods of that town. The game was fast and exciting, the score being 4 to 4 until the last inning.

The Shenandoahs then started a rally which netted six runs; final score 10 to 4.

Kansas Is in Good Condition

For His Bout Today With Sammy Mandell at Chicago — Selecting Referee — Odds Even as Hour Draws Near.

Chicago, July 3.—Everything was in readiness at daybreak today for the rebirth of legalized boxing in Chicago and Illinois.

Rocky Kansas, of Buffalo, N. Y., lightweight champion of the world, who risks his title with Sammy Mandell, Rockford, Ill., challenger, in the main event, was pronounced in the best condition of his career. His youthful opponent greeted early callers with reassurance that this is his "day of days" and that dusk will settle down on the crowned head of a new king.

Upwards of 30,000 persons are expected to pay in the neighborhood of $100,000 to see the fight, which will be held in the White Sox Ball Park. As the fighters awaited the bell, only one detail remained apparently unsettled. That concerned the selection of a referee from a list of twelve eligible held by the members of the Illinois State Athletic Commission. The selection will be an important one, for with the referee rests the power of decision, under the new code of boxing regulations recently formulated and adopted by the commission.

Popular opinion here favors "West Side" Phil Collins, but it was rumored late last night that a downstate applicant, identity unknown, might be the commission's choice.

Odds were even as the hour for the fight drew near. Mandell, who early in the week was quoted as two to one favorite to defeat Kansas, grandfather of the world's lightweight, had slowly lost his advantage in the "mutuals" as the title holder rounded into shape, and while it was common talk that Mandell would breeze in, it was also true that he was little short money to back up the argument.

Kansas's chance rests entirely with his physical condition. According to the intelligentsia, a knockout is his only chance to retain his lightweight supremacy. Mandell, the better boxer of the two, has little chance to floor the champion, who buries his chin in his shoulders with his peculiar crouch and who is quite a rugged chap, despite his 31 years.

Consequently, Mandell must depend on his remarkable boxing skill to gain the referee's decision, a method which has carried him to the court of the king. This he has announced he has adopted as his plan of attack.

"I'd like a knockout," Sammy said today, "but I'll be satisfied with a decision and I know I can get it. My only deviation will be the testing of my right, if Kansas gives me an opening."

Today's show will be the first boxing entertainment legally held in Illinois since 1904 when Joe Gans and Terry McGovern engaged in a fake fight. Sucker Atlanta was counted out by the state legislature immediately after that farce and since then, until today, only bootleg bouts have been sneaked in where law enforcement was feeblest.

That Night's Fights:
At New York—Ray Miller, Chicago lightweight, and Billy Petrolle, Fargo, N. D., fought a draw, 10 rounds.
Eddie Anderson, Wyoming Junior Lightweight, outpointed Joe Malone, New York, 10 rounds.
Harry Felix, New York lightweight, won from Cuddy De Marco, Pittsburgh, 10 rounds.
Harry Ebbetts, Freeport, N. Y., welterweight, knocked out Joe Werner, New York, in the fifth round.
Jack Hausner, New York Junior Lightweight defeated Eddie Paradise, six rounds.
At Syracuse—Romeo Rojas, Chilean heavyweight, and King Solomon of Panama fought a draw, 10 rounds.
At Long Branch, N. J.—Harry (Kid) Brown, Philadelphia lightweight, knocked out Al Delmont, Newark, N. J., in the third round.
Philly Griffin, Newark, N. J., featherweight, defeated Johnny Kid Lewis of Philadelphia, eight rounds.
At New Orleans—Martin Burke, New Orleans, knocked out Frank Moody, champion of Wales, in the 13th round.

Ruth Out of Game Due to Injuries

Washington, July 3.—Babe Ruth, who has been making a prodigious effort to eclipse his 1921 record of home runs, will be out of the game indefinitely due to leg injuries. It was stated here today by Manager Miller Huggins of the Yankees.

It may be a week, it may be a month, and it may be longer, Huggins said.

The Bambino is suffering from the after-effects of a charley horse in his left leg, which left painful blood clots, and from water on the knee of his right leg.

The doctors have told Ruth that he can only recover through complete rest; otherwise he risks the possibility of serious injury. He appeared in yesterday's game here only as a pinch-hitter in the tenth.

The retirement of Ruth, coupled with the recent injury which forced Bob Meusel from the Yankee lineup, is a severe blow to the Yankee offense. Fortunately, the injuries come at a time when the Yanks are out in the lead and running the field ragged.

Tagging Major League Bases

The Reds continued their dizzy pace, beating the Cubs, 6 to 1, behind Rixey's airtight twirling. Chicago dropped to sixth place.

Pittsburgh gave further evidence of reform by making it two straight from the Cardinals as Kremer bested Alexander in a 3 to 2 duel. The Cards died with their boots on, scoring two runs in the ninth.

Dazzy Vance failed again and the Giants drubbed the Dodgers, 5 to 2. McQuillen pitched well and Meusel got three hits.

The Phillies, fighting the Braves for seventh place, had their backs to the wall but the plaster gave way and they flopped into the cellar as Larry Benton gained a 4 to 2 decision over Clarence Mitchell. Huber got four hits for a perfect day at bat.

Washington nosed out the Yankees, 6 to 5, by knocking Myles Thomas for several goals in the seventh inning and scoring five runs. Gehrig got a homer and a double for the Yanks while Paegeal, subbing for Ruth, chipped in with three singles.

The White Sox lost to the Browns, 3 to 2 when Rhee's homer in the ninth broke up a pitching duel between Blankenship and Ballou.

After coming from behind three times, twice during the extra innings, to tie the score, the Athletics finally downed the Red Sox in the thirteenth, 4 to 3 on Bishop's single.

The Tigers clawed Sherry Smith for seven hits and as many runs in the seventh inning, swamping Cleveland 9 to 3. Manush continued his terrific batting, polling out four hits.

Outstanding Athlete

All-Stars Have Busy Week End

Today the Kingston All-Stars are playing the Hudson River State Hospital at Poughkeepsie. The last time these clubs met the down river club came out on top of a 6-5 score. The hospital club has a strong lineup with Dahn, Phelan, McDermott, McDonald, Nuhn and many other well-known players.

Sunday the locals will travel to Wingdale, N. Y., to play the Harlem Valley State Hospital Club. Little is known of this club as the All-Stars have never played there.

On Monday the home town boys will be in action against the Millbrook Club. The locals and Millbrook always have very hard battles. Of the thirteen games the locals have played in Millbrook the past three years the down river club has won seven and Kingston six.

Hank Cragan will be worked hard this week, going against Poughkeepsie Saturday and Millbrook Monday. Freddie Stoudt will twirl against the Hospital Club in Wingdale on Sunday.

BASEBALL NOTES

Catcher Raymond Hayworth of the Toronto club of the International League, has been sent to the Detroit Tigers.

Time was called by the umpire in a Toronto game recently when the sun's rays made it impossible for the batter to see the ball.

Howard A. Holland, collegiate pitcher from the University of Virginia, reported to Manager Jack Hendricks of the Cincinnati Reds.

The Boston Braves announce the release of Wilfred "Roney" Ryan, a pitcher, to the Toledo club of the American association.

Within six months after graduating from Lafayette college in 1923, Mike Gazella earned $10,000 as a member of the New York Yankees.

Taken in hand three years ago by Coach William T. "Doc" Cook, Columbia university's freshman baseball team has never been defeated.

"Curly" Ogden, who pitches for the Senators, has two brothers, John and Tim, who also play baseball. All three have attended Swarthmore college.

Pete Harris is a left-handed pitcher for the Columbus (Ohio) baseball club. He is also a professional golfer, using his right hand to swing his sticks.

Negotiations to advance the University of Washington baseball nine's invasion of Japan from September to July have been opened with Waseda university.

Big Ed Walsh, former White Sox pitcher, is supervisor of a junior baseball league formed in Meriden, Conn., sponsored by Meriden post No. 45, American Legion.

Howard A. Holland, the Cincinnati right-handed pitcher who comes to the club from the University of Virginia, has a peculiar full-arm delivery that reminds one of an athlete putting the shot.

Even the umpires start the opening games on pleasant terms with everybody. This strange situation endures for exactly three seconds, or until the first strike has been called on the home star.

Fort Worth took the Deak Roberts trophy for the best opening day attendance. The club had 12,792 paid admissions when the lid was pried off, April 14. This was a new record. Dallas was only 340 persons behind.

Junior Event at Sesqui Stadium

Junior Games Today at Sesqui-centennial Stadium Should Prove as Interesting as Senior Events Monday.

By Davis J. Walsh.
Philadelphia, July 3.—First of a three day carnival, possibly as pretentious as any the Amateur Athletic Union has sponsored, the National Junior Championships in track and field will get under way this afternoon at the Sesqui-centennial Stadium with a lot of first class athletes laying their reputations right on the line.

The junior games might lack the international flavor of the senior championships on Monday and the popular appeal of the decathlon and relay championships of the following day but they fairly bristled with talent and the possibility existed that more than one junior performance might prove a trifle beyond the corresponding effort of the senior field.

Touching on and appertaining to this thought there was the entry of Glenn Graham, the Californian, to be used as exhibit A. This young man tied Lee Barnes for the Olympic pole vault in 1924, losing only by the toss of a coin and if he fails to turnish a new games record it won't be because he hasn't it in him. Graham will have to beat Ralph Smith of the California Smiths, none of whom can be figured to lose automatically at the business of pole vaulting. Ralph and his brother, Harry, finished one two last year at 12 feet 11 1/2 inches.

Another plausible specimen was to be exhibited in the 100-yard dash. George Simpson, of East High School, Columbus, Ohio, simply knocked the boys on their flat faces in winning the National Scholastic Championship at Chicago in 9:4-5 and if he repeats this afternoon it will be difficult to see how George can go wrong. Murchison, Hussey and the others in the senior dash will step dust as lively as they know how to better these figures.

Simpson will not be in with a bunch of saps at that. A number of college and club sprinters who just missed the major titles that would have kept them out of the games will go to the post in both dashes and perhaps an upset will not come exactly under the head of disorderly conduct.

The mile is figured to uncover plenty of class too. Among the nominated were Tom Cavanaugh, Boston College man who has stepped better than 4:20; Maurice Speers of Iowa University, John Spates, a Baltimore policeman without a flat foot in the entire family, and Art Keary of Toronto. They may have to write new figures in the book after this one.

If they don't, the half-mile will supply an equally promising possibility. The field here will include Eddie Swinburne, member of Georgetown's record breaking mile relay team; George Lenes, Massachusetts Tech star; S. Martin, Boston A. A.; A. U. Granning, of Colgate, and Pinkie Sober, of New York, who for a time last year ran through all the champions. Either Swinburne or Sober might turn 1:54 for the half-mile which would mean that the boys were hurrying considerably.

The class in these events, by the way, was not to be taken as the exception of the games. It appeared to be typical of the entire program. As for the team championship, it seemed to be a three club affair with the Los Angeles A. C., the Illinois A. C., and the New York A. C. favored to make the fight.

Cavemen's Arsenal
An arsenal was discovered some months ago in the neighborhood of Chatham, England, believed to have been used by cavemen millions of years ago. Two local men made the discovery about sixteen months ago, and since then about four thousand hammer stones, flint axes and scrapers, and other worked flints, have been taken out of the dump. The tools and weapons, although they belong to the earliest period of the Stone age, are wonderfully efficient.

Mastering the Depths
One of the dangers of deep-sea diving is the absorption of nitrogen by the blood. Recent experiments indicate that a mixture of helium and oxygen will permit divers to descend to depths greater than have been attained, and to ascend more rapidly without danger.

ANDREWS EXPEDITION FINDS "DRAGON BONES" IN CHINA

Remarkable Discovery Follows Trade in Fossils to Be Ground for Medicine.

Peking, China.—The fame of "dragon bone medicine" among the Chinese of the interior province of Szechuan has led to remarkable discoveries of remains of long extinct animal forms by a member of the Central Asiatic expedition under Roy Chapman Andrews. Drawn by reports of a trade in "dragon bones" which has flourished along the middle Yangtze for seven or eight centuries, Walter Granger, paleontologist of the expedition, investigated and found fossils of thirty-five to forty animals of the Pleistocene age.

Granger disclosed his discovery in Peking, where the expedition still is waiting for a chance to get to Kaigai and the Gobi desert to continue its search for traces of primitive man. Civil war at present bars any movement along the railway from Peking to Kaigai, although the American scientists are ready for their next excursion into the upland wastes of Mongolia.

Among Granger's most notable discoveries among the "dragon bones" were skulls of the stegodon, an animal which resembled the mammoth, of a giant tapir, and a rhinoceros, a complete fossilized skeleton of a gaur, or East Indian bison, and fossils of about thirty-five other extinct forms, including ancestors of many present-day animals.

Near Wanhshien, on the Yangtze, Granger learned farmers in the slack season were digging "literally tons" of bone fossils out of mud-filled pits in a limestone ridge running sixty to seventy miles along the river, and selling these "dragon" remains to be pulverized for "medicine." Dealers bought them for shipment to Chungking, the most important river port of the Szechuan.

The excavations made in the pits formed by action of water on the rock are often 75 to 100 feet deep. Granger said. "The salvaged bones are dried, cleaned and piled in a corner of the farmer's house, waiting for the dealer to come along."

Riviera Calls Yankee

Tight Among Spenders

Paris.—Individually American visitors along the Riviera are "tightwads" in comparison with persons of other nationalities who seek enjoyment and rest in that salubrious region.

As good spenders the Americans are ranked fourth, coming after the Russians, Germans and Egyptians. British visitors are placed fifth. Leading hotel and restaurant proprietors along the Riviera are authority for this statement.

"Americans and British are so numerous on the Riviera that their total expenditures amount to more than half of all the money left there by foreigners," says a writer who interviewed the purveyors of food and frolic. "But it is myth that they are the most generous of the visitors. Despite the fact that many of the Russians are in poor circumstances, when they appear in public they are the freest spenders of all foreigners. During the last year Germans have occupied many of the most luxurious hotel suites in Nice, Cannes and Monte Carlo, and the hotel proprietors consider them excellent guests."

Epidemics Since 1914

Deadlier Than Wars

Washington.—Epidemics, with a toll of 40,000,000, have claimed more lives throughout the world since 1914 than all the wars and civil strife. Since that year, the second Pan-American Red Cross conference was told by T. B. Kitteridge, assistant director general of the League of Red Cross Societies.

Of the 62,000,000 lives lost in world disasters since 1914, Mr. Kitteridge said, 9,000,000 were lost in war and 6,000,000 in civil strife. Injuries during the same period totaled 140,000,000, epidemics caused 100,000,000 of these and war 20,000,000. The number of dead and seriously injured in disasters since 1914 constituted one-tenth of the total world population.

Eighty-five per cent of relief contributions for disaster-stricken areas come from the American continent, 75 per cent being from the United States.

Asserts All Lincoln

Relics Are Collected

Springfield, Ill.—Half a century of activities of collectors of Lincoln relics and papers has cleaned out the last vestiges of Lincolniana. J. C. Thompson, former judge and lay-historian here, says.

Mr. Thompson, who has had experience as a student of Illinois history and particularly that relating to Lincoln, says he refuses to be disturbed by reports of new Lincoln discoveries. "Washington's backyard," he said, "was a long time in drying and it will be the same with Lincoln. The collections of some 300 Lincoln enthusiasts and various museums have garnered practically everything that ever related to the emancipator or his life."

Call It "Bifftek"

Paris.—Do you know what "Bifftek" is? It appears on the bill of fare of all restaurants in France, morning and evening. The French think it to be the English for beefsteak, but it carries all shades of steak.

Civilization: A church, a school, a store selling ladies' ready-to-wear.

"Oh yes, the courses out here are punk, the profs are narrow-minded, the fraternities rotten, the class of boys terrible, the girls in town sad and—"

"Yes, I know. I flunked out too."

If a woman can admire a man with a couple of front teeth out, it's a sign she'll stick.

Twelve make a dozen but very few make a million.

As lots of prize fighters have got married the past year or two, it is assumed that this is probably the best and cheapest way to get a good dependable sparring partner.

As Queen Elizabeth might have said to Sir Walter Raleigh: "Keep your shirt on."

Paris has again come out for the helpless girl. Any girl that is built like a slat will be in style now.

A pretty girl in a new frock has the same feeling as a cat does when it purrs.

A secret is what a man tells another man not to tell because he promised not to tell it himself.

A primordial young woman named Eve caused old Father Adam to grieve. When asked where she'd been, she replied with a grin, "I've been absent without any leave."

"What has the future in store for women?" asks a pastor. What do we care? What we are going to worry about from now until Christmas is not the wife's future but her present.

It takes 1,500 nuts to hold an automobile together, but one nut at the wheel can offset that by about 15 minutes of reckless driving.

Tourist (paying his bill): "Well, I'm square now."

Hotel Keeper: "Yes, sir, and I hope you will be round again very shortly."

"She has refused my suit!" the hero on the stage exclaimed, dramatically.

"Mother," loudly whispered a little boy in the audience, "what does he want her to wear his clothes for?"

The biggest clock in the world, with a fifty-foot dial will be set up in Jersey City. And all it can do is tell the same time as a lady's wrist watch.

Julius: "Let's go; slow-motion pictures always bore me."
Caesar: "That's not a slow-motion picture; it's a plumber working at the top of his speed."

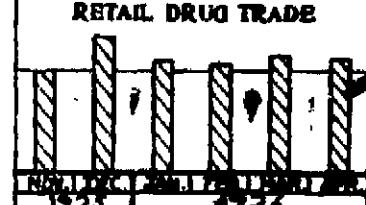

Example of excellent after dinner speech: "Now Honey, I'll help you with the dishes."

There's plenty of work in hell. But the wages are low and the hours are long.

People Buying Drugs.

RELATIVE VALUE OF RETAIL DRUG TRADE

Babson Park, Mass., July 3. (Special.)—The remarkable comeback that the United Drug Company is making—clearly shown by its larger sales—is only one instance of the admitted fact that families today are patronizing the drug stores to an extent never dreamed of in the days of the old "Apothecary's Shop."

But perhaps this is due to the way in which the drug stores are loading up with far more than merely drugs these days. Without intending to be humorous, it seems almost impossible to determine just where the drug store today is going to stop in its variety of offerings to the public.

The holiday month of December is always a fine one when one studies the relative value of our retail drug store trade. This year March has been next best with April in third place. Last November showed the lowest relative value of retail drug store trade in this country over the six months from November to April.

His Master's Voice

An East side man was endeavoring to give a friend a thrill. He turned a corner at high speed, and the automobile turned over, all wheels spinning. The incident occurred in front of the driver's house, and he was just crawling out as his wife appeared. "Why, John," she cried, "what are you doing under there? Come out this minute!"—Detroit News.

Called Out of Town—

In Winter, Do You Wonder If the Family Will Be Warm?

A sudden call out of town on business, especially in winter, is often most unwelcome because of the anxiety one feels about whether the family will keep warm.

All this is spared the man whose house is heated with gas. Automatic regulation, constant, unvarying temperature regardless of the weather outside, with no fuel to shovel and no ashes to dispose of, are the wonderful benefits to be derived.

The thought that such super service must be very expensive deters many from even asking about the particulars of gas house heating. Instead of being beyond the reach of ordinary people, gas house heating is within the reach of the many. It is not a luxury merely for the rich.

This is the right time to give thought to the subject of heating your home next winter. We urge you to give us an opportunity to tell you what we know about gas house heating. It certainly entails no obligation, and you will be enabled to go into the subject of heating your home intelligently.

A telephone call will bring one of our representatives to you promptly. And you may be greatly surprised to know just what gas house heating means.

Who Are Hungry?

"Hunkie" is a slang term of contempt and derision which is applied to foreigners, especially to immigrants from southern Europe. Apparently the origin of the word is unknown. Like the words dago, wop, kike, hunk, hunkie, greaser, spick, polack, chink and many others, it is not used by people who regard the feelings of others.—Putnam Magazine.

Needle Mystery

"A western Kansas man found the proverbial needle in the straw stack. Now it got there he doesn't know, but after he sold down the stack it re-quired an hour for the engineer to get the needle out," so reads the Salina Journal. It was probably a needle some farmer lost when he "hoed" his wheat.—Capper's Weekly.

Steal Trolley, 3 Men Injured

Yonkers, N. Y., July 3.—Five men stole a trolley car here today, and half an hour later three of them were in hospitals while the car was almost completely wrecked.

The men, after an altercation with the motorman, threw him off and departed at full speed. However, the motorman took the handle of his air-brake control with him, and when the car started down a steep hill with a turn at the bottom there was no way to stop it.

The trolley left the track and crashed into a safety wall in front of an apartment house, which was erected several years ago after another car had jumped the track at the same place and landed into a tenant's parlor.

One of the injured men received a fractured skull and the others were badly bruised and shaken up. The leader of the trolley thieves was held under an old statute which makes it a felony to interfere with a public conveyance.

Hurt in Crash On Hurley Road

Slippery Condition of Road Following Rain Blamed for Collision Between Two Cars Near Suspension Bridge.

At 12.49 o'clock this morning a collision between two cars occurred near the suspension bridge at Hurley. Both cars were damaged and Joseph Murphy, an occupant of one of the cars, was injured. He was taken to the Kingston City Hospital where he had stitches taken in a wound on his head and lacerations on his arm dressed, after which he was able to go home.

Rosa J. Baker of Kerhonkson was coming toward Kingston with a party of folks who had been attending a church play at Kerhonkson. Francis Fisher of 22 Mary's avenue, this city, and a party of four were traveling out, when their car was struck by the Baker machine swung off the road and ran into a pole which prevented it going over a bank into the fields. Murphy, who was with Fisher, was the only one injured.

The sheriff's office was notified and Deputy Sheriff Anderson Ellsworth went to the scene and conducted an investigation. No arrests were made. It is claimed that the accident was caused by the slippery condition of the road following the rain. Kuhlmann's Garage in this city took charge of the wrecked car.

Russell Scott Must Die Oct. 15

Slayer of Joseph Maurer Receives Death Sentence Stoiically—Case Will Again Go To State Supreme Court.

Chicago, July 3.—Russell Scott must die October 15.

The slayer of Joseph Maurer, drug clerk, today heard Judge Marcus A. Kavanagh pronounce the words of doom from which, this time, there apparently will be no legal recourse. The sentence of death was the finale to as strange a story of despair and hope as has ever been written into American murder trial records.

Twice sentenced to be hanged, twice tried for sanity, twice reprieved, Scott now has only the bare possibility of executive clemency standing between him and the hangman. The case will again go to the state supreme court, upon the recommendation of Judge Kavanagh and the appeal of William Scott Stewart, defense attorney.

But the supreme court has already refused to intervene for Scott, having refused a plea for a rehearing of his case, before a last-minute battle for his life resulted in an order for a sanity inquiry and commitment to Chester Hospital for the criminal insane.

In contrast to the earlier days of his various legal adventures, only ten persons were present in court when Scott heard his sentence.

Scott received the sentence stoically, but a slight twitching of the lips betrayed his emotion.

Embryonic Reformers

It was in a Soviet republic, and children were playing "popular assemblies." Raul, a six-year-old boy, was speaking. He sharply proclaimed that the children must reform. Boys must no longer strike little girls; little boys must no longer be beaten by bigger boys. That was a bourgeois habit. It must stop and the serious problem of "children's freedom" be solved. A crowd of children listened in silence, and one grew up. And as little Raul for the fourth time spoke of the problem, the man said: "Tell me just how you intend to solve this problem." The boy stopped a moment and murmured, then suddenly spoke: "This problem would be solved like all other problems—according to certain principles." And he smiled happily.

Kills Former Husband and Self

Chicago, July 3.—Dressed in man's garb, a pretty divorcee crept into her former husband's apartment here early today, and shot him as he slept, according to police.

Then she put a bullet into her own temple, and fell over his body.

They died together, her arms around him.

Not until shortly after 3 o'clock, when an associate called to find out why the dead man had failed to keep an appointment, was the double tragedy discovered.

Helen La Fraugh, 23, manicurist at a fashionable Loop hotel, wedded three years ago and then divorced, tried repeatedly for a reconciliation with Russell, 31, her husband, a woman friend told police.

Then, her heart filled with the despair of a woman scorned, she slipped herself in correct Oxford bags, black pumps, golf sweater and with a cap over her bobbed hair, made her way into the apartment, which her former mate preferred to occupy alone.

There, once for all, she rid herself of the suffering heart.

Steamer Odell Breaks Piston

Shortly after the steamer B. B. Odell of the Central Hudson Line had left her berth in the Rondout creek on her trip to New York this morning the piston rod on the reversing gear suddenly broke. It was expected that a new rod would be installed and the vessel ready to resume her trip later in the day.

Savages at Feast

The natives of Abyssinia are very fond of raw meat, but as such a diet is attended by considerable cost it is not so frequently indulged in and the result is that bread is the mainstay of the people.

Occasionally a carcass is secured and a feast is indulged in by a number of persons who consume it entirely without cooking or any other preparation. The carcass is cut up and each of the participants takes a piece with a bone attached. Squatting on his haunches he holds the piece by the bone and makes a cut with a sharp knife.

The partially severed piece is then taken in the teeth and finally severed with an upward movement of the knife. As one witnesses the operation it would seem that there was danger of severing the nose of the diner.—Chicago Journal.

Love vs. Deliri-um

People in love are not happy, but they always think they are going to be. Being in love is a delicious process of gathering together all imagined happiness, and believing that some other human being is the sum of them. You will be happy when you get it. The conclusion is almost mathematical. Millions of young people arrive at it, just as we did. When we were married we would be happy ever after.

The number of persons who are not happy, though married, should have suggested to us that there was a flaw somewhere in our reasoning. But it didn't.—Rosa Wilder Lane, in Hearst's International-Competition.

Driving to the Mountains From New York City, woman, said to be Mrs. Beale Schatt, Driving Through the Notch Met With Accident.

Thursday afternoon a woman, said to be Mrs. Beale Schatt of New York city, stopped in Phenicia on her way through the Catskill Mountains and stated that she was very tired, having driven a considerable distance, and sought to engage some one to drive her for the remainder of her journey. She was alone in a Ford coupe.

Owing to the holiday rush to the mountains every available driver in Phenicia was busy and she was unable to engage one, and started to complete her journey alone.

The defendant told at the sheriff's office that he was on his way back to his small farm in the country with his wife and a child and his car got tangled up with other cars and he was arrested. He had about $4.75 to be used to buy gasoline should he need any. As he told a straight story as to his business, saying he was a carpenter, two good Samaritans at the court house each chipped in $5 and paid the fine, he taking their addresses promising to remit $10 as soon as he reached home.

Mercy Cut No Figure in Old-Time Justice

The torturing of criminals on "the wheel" is a very ancient form of punishment. In an "improved" form it was revived in Germany in the fourteenth century. The unfortunate victim was laid upon a very large cart wheel, his legs and arms extended and fastened to the spokes, and in that position, as the wheel was turned around, his limbs were broken by successive blows with an iron bar. In France, where the wheel was used only to punish criminals of the most atrocious sort, the victim was first bound to a frame of wood in the form of a St. Andrew's cross—that is, two bars of equal length laid crosswise like an X. Grooves were cut transversely in these bars, above and below the knees and elbows, and the executioner struck the flange of the victim's right elbow so as to break them in those places. Sometimes he slashed his work by striking the criminal two or three blows on the chest or stomach, which usually put an end to the sufferer's life, and therefore were called blows of mercy. The punishment of the wheel was abolished in France at the revolution. In Germany it was occasionally inflicted early in the last century for the crimes of treason and parricide.

Another Kind of Chess, Sir

One of our English literature professors, whose name we must in all kindness withhold, was negotiating for some time with a ladies' literary club in Maine, about a lecture on Chaucer, on whom he was a distinguished authority. They finally wrote, "We have decided to have a baked-bean supper instead."—The Harvard Lampoon.

Hudson Valley Fruit Conditions

The following report furnished by the New York State Department of Farms and Markets summarizes the trend of the market during the week and gives the quotations for Friday up to 8 a. m. for fruits and vegetables:

Cherries—Receipts from the Hudson valley were moderate. The price trend was downward owing to the poor demand which was partly on account of the ordinary quality and small size of the fruit. The market closed dull and weak. Hudson Valley, per 4-quart basket, various sweet varieties, depending upon the size, quality, and condition blacks 35 to 75 cents, reds 35 to 60 cents, whites 20 to 40 cents. Per quart basket various sweet varieties, blacks 15 to 20 cents, reds 12 to 15 cents, whites 5 to 12 cents. Various sour varieties, per quart, red 8 to 12 cents, per 4-quart basket 25 to 40 cents, rarely higher, per 12-quart basket 75 cents to $1.00.

Currents—Scattering small lots of red currents were received from the Hudson valley which sold principally at 15 cents per quart. The currents were generally small and green. Hudson Valley per quart basket, red best 15 to 16 cents, fair 18 to 20 cents, ordinary 12 to 13 cents.

Gooseberries—Arrivals light but trade very slow except on fancy large. Hudson valley, per 4-quart basket 40 to 50 cents, rarely higher, according to the size of the berries, per quart basket large 15 to 16 cents, a few 17 to 18 cents, medium to small 10 to 12 cents.

Strawberries—Trading was a trifle more active at end of the week particularly for good quality large berries and in consequence values averaged a shade higher. Arrivals from the Hudson valley during the week were more liberal. The season's initial shipment from Oswego county, N. Y., was received on Thursday and sold at 30 to 35 cents per quart. Hudson valley, lower section, per quart, fair to ordinary 12 to 18 cents, fancy 20 to 25 cents, a few 27 to 30 cents. Upper districts per quart best 20 to 25 cents, fancy large 28 to 32 cents, few 33 to 35 cents, ordinary around 15 to 18 cents, Oswego county, N. MANY IMPROVEMENTS MADE AT KYSERIKE

Kyserike, July 3.—A great many improvements have been made to buildings in this place within the last few weeks. Arthur Atkins at Four Corners has added to his ice cream parlor and has also erected a garage, repair shop, and gas station. Russell Trowbridge has built a rest station on the road to the railroad station. Virgil Cross, proprietor of the Kyserike general store, has enlarged his place and added an ice cream parlor.

Dreamland Farm's growth has made it necessary to build a large addition to the dining hall. With the completion of this addition the dining room will cover over 2,500 square feet and will be one of the largest in the valley. All the residents of Kyserike and Allgerville have been invited to attend the annual Independence Day program at Dreamland Farm which will extend over two days, July 4 and 5. On Sunday there will be addresses by the Rev. Thomas S. Braithwaite of High Falls and by Luke O'Reilly, a lawyer from Brooklyn. On Sunday Assemblyman Millard Davis has been invited to speak.

HOW TO GIVE "TEA FOR TWO"

--- By a Bride ---
NEVER invite a man to tea unless you are prepared to make a good impression. And that requires plenty of good food and a real home atmosphere. For a real home atmosphere you must have a real home. A real home is a place where you can relax and enjoy life. A real home is a place where you can be happy. A real home is a place where you can be loved. A real home is a place where you can be free. A real home is a place where you can be yourself. A real home is a place where you can be at home. A real home is a place where you can be at ease. A real home is a place where you can be at peace. A real home is a place where you can be at joy. A real home is a place where you can be at love. A real home is a place where you can be at life. A real home is a place where you can be at all.
